Funding applicants told us they were facing challenges that were making it difficult to take action. We've listened, and have introduced some changes to the funding guidance. You said: It's challenging to get three quotes, particularly in rural areas. What we've changed: We still recommend that you seek at least three quotations to ensure you are getting the right choice of contractor for you. However, where it is not possible/practical to secure more than one quote, and where evidence of seeking additional quotes is provided and you wish to appoint a particular contractor, you can send us their quote and we can assess this for value for money. You said: Our project is part of a renovation, extension or new build - how can my design team support us? What we've changed: Where your project is part of a larger renovation or new build, written advice from one of the project's professional advisors confirming the rationale for the technology choice can be used to support your applications evidence for proposed measures. Where CARES funded measures are part of a larger construction project we will try and align our processes. Further information is available in our funding FAQs
